

Michelle Banks is a curator with the Smithsonian Center for Folklife and Cultural Heritage. She was part of the curatorial team for the 2023 Smithsonian Folklife Festival program Creative Encounters: Living Religions in the US and is currently working on the 2025 Festival program Youth and the Future of Culture. She has an MA in cultural sustainability from Goucher College and recently completed her PhD in Sustainability Education at Prescott College. Her research explores the intersections of language, culture, and sustainability.

Smithsonian Center for Folklife & Cultural Heritage: <https://folklife.si.edu/>

Smithsonian Folklife Festival: <https://festival.si.edu/2025/youth-future-culture>