SPRING 2026

January 26 - May 2

Dance | Digital Arts | Drama | Music | Visual Arts | Creative Writing

SITAR
ARTS CENTER

Early Childhood Arts Ages 0 - 6

MONDAY

5:30 - 6:30 PM

Family Tree
Mixed Media Art

3 - 5 yrs &
Caregivers

Ana Kourchenko

Family Tree Mixed Media Art explores the worlds of collage, painting, drawing, textile art, and beyond. Designed for families to take together, participants will work with fabric, paper, paint, photographs, natural elements, and other materials to create a collaborative family tree that reflects both a shared history and individual stories. Families will explore visual journaling, shape-making, calligraphy, and weaving to bring their tree to life. Perfect for those looking to learn new art forms, uniquely tell their family story, and create a meaningful piece together.

TUESDAY

4:00 - 4:45 PM

Musical Beginnings

1.5 - 3 yrs &
Caregivers

Caitlin Dotson

This caregiver and child music class invites little ones to explore sound, rhythm, and movement through age-appropriate instruments and interactive musical play. Using colorful Boomwhackers, bells, maracas, small drums, and xylophones, toddlers will begin to engage with the foundational elements of music in a joyful, sensory-rich environment. This class aims to support early developmental milestones such as language acquisition, motor coordination, and social bonding through active music engagement. Caregivers participate alongside their children, fostering connection through shared musical experiences, singing, and movement.

5:00 - 5:45 PM

Music and Me

3 - 5 yrs

Caitlin Dotson

In this program, children will explore a variety of percussion instruments and connect them to basic musical figures and elements in a playful, engaging environment. Instruments such as Boomwhackers, colorful bells, maracas, drums, and xylophones will be used alongside materials like colored ribbons and visual aids to help children recognize musical concepts both aurally and visually. In addition to building musical understanding, this class will holistically support children's overall development. Activities are designed to encourage self-expression, enhance motor coordination, and promote social interaction through shared musical experiences.

Early Childhood Arts Ages 0 - 6

THURSDAY

5:00 - 5:45 PM

Creative Movement

3 - 5 yrs

Sylvana Christopher

Creative Movement introduces students to dance through song, gesture, and pathway. In this class, movers use their entire bodies to tell stories, practicing facial expression, problem-solving, observation, and turn-taking. Students will build confidence and clarity of direction and intention through opportunities to actively engage both sides of their brain. This class is ideal for students interested in the intersection of music, movement, and storytelling.

SATURDAY

10:00 - 10:45 AM

Creative Adventures Preschool

3 - 5 yrs &
Caregivers

Manique Buckmon

Creative Adventures Preschool is a joyful, hands-on class designed for children (ages 3-5) and their caregivers to explore creativity together. In a safe and fun environment, they'll connect through activities like color mixing, clay, music, games, movement, and storytelling. This class encourages fine motor development and social-emotional skills, creating meaningful ways to bond and grow.

11:00 AM - 12:00 PM Hip Hop

3 - 6 yrs

Jessica Denson

In Hip Hop, students will build confidence while experiencing the joy and freedom of hip hop dance fundamentals, in an encouraging and fun environment, with the freshest (and kid-appropriate) music and moves! The goal of this class is to help students further their developmental agility by learning movement phrases that emphasize dynamics, musicality, isolations of body parts, and locomotion. The class structure emphasizes building stamina, coordination, and teamwork through practice and play.

Arts Afterschool

Grades K - 12 and Adult

MONDAY

4:00 - 5:00 PM

Beginner Group Guitar

3rd - 5th

Joe Link

Beginner Guitar introduces students to foundational techniques, music theory, and the basics of playing in an ensemble. Guitarists will explore the major scale and its harmonization while developing skills in chord playing, strumming, and note reading. By the end of the semester, students will work together to perform at least one song as a group. This class is a great starting point for aspiring musicians ready to build confidence and enjoy making music with others.

4:00 - 5:00 PM

Design Day Club (Bilingual)

2nd - 5th

Cecilia Cortes-Earle

Design Day Club is a project-based class where young designers explore the essential elements of graphic design, including images, typography, color palettes, and messaging. Students will learn how design communicates ideas by considering audience, purpose, and visual impact. Through hands-on projects such as packaging, logo design, and infographics, designers are encouraged to think creatively and intentionally while creating meaningful work they can take pride in. This unique class provides a supportive space for exploration, and bilingual instruction is available when needed.

5:00 - 6:00 PM

Rising Stars

3rd - 6th

Maria del Mar Rodriguez

This dynamic acting class is for anyone with a passion to perform, offering a fun, creative environment to develop your craft. Students will build a strong foundation using acting techniques, engage in high-energy theatre games, and apply their skills directly through focused scene work to explore character and text. It's a great place for students to use their imagination and have fun being a star.

5:00 - 6:00 PM

Saints Band Jr.

6th - 12th

Joe Link

Students will dive into the rhythms and melodies of rock, jazz, R&B, and Latin music, learning to perform a wide range of styles that will broaden their musical horizons in a band. By the end of the semester, students will showcase their talents in a live performance, demonstrating their growth as versatile, confident musicians! This class is for students who have some musical experience: drums, bass, guitar, piano, vocals, violin, woodwinds, or brass.

MONDAY

5:00 - 6:00 PM

The Sketch Lab

8th - 12th

Sharon McKenna Gundrum

This playful, no-pressure drawing class invites students to fill their sketchbooks while building essential drawing skills. Young artists will explore fundamentals such as shapes, line, shading, contour drawing, composition, and the use of color to help tell visual stories. Throughout the semester, students will progress from simple sketches to more developed drawings in a supportive environment that encourages curiosity, experimentation, and confidence.

6:00 - 7:00 PM

Adult Sketch Lab

Adult

Sharon McKenna Gundrum

This playful, no-pressure drawing class invites students to fill their sketchbooks while building essential drawing skills. Artists will explore fundamentals such as shapes, line, shading, contour drawing, composition, and the use of color to help tell visual stories. Throughout the semester, students will progress from simple sketches to more developed drawings in a supportive environment that encourages curiosity, experimentation, and confidence.

6:00 - 7:00 PM

Graphic Design Lab: Poster Art

6th - 9th

Emma Spainhoward

Want to learn to speak the language of visual design? The colors, shapes, and compositions around us all have something to say. Students will explore the meanings behind colors, lettering, and layout, and learn how to use these tools to communicate the things that matter most to them. Using both digital design tools and traditional art materials, students will learn by doing: they'll create stickers, cards, and more—before designing a final poster to teach others about one of their interests.

Arts Afterschool

Grades K - 12 and Adult

TUESDAY

4:15 - 5:15 PM

TWB: Ballet Group A

K - 2nd

Moira Ragen

Students will learn pre-ballet by way of creative movement and will gradually progress to beginner ballet technique introducing them to the foundation of classical ballet at a developmentally appropriate level. Students will exercise creativity, imagination, rhythm, and motion while developing body awareness, increased strength, agility, and motor coordination.

4:30 - 5:30 PM

DCJF: Jazzin' Afterschool

6th - 12th

Jazzin' Afterschool is a partnership class with the DC Jazz Festival where students can learn from professional jazz musicians! This class will focus on ensemble playing, jazz rhythms, and experimenting with different instruments. All levels are welcome!

4:30 - 5:30 PM

Eco Art Explorers

K - 2nd

Hope Glastris

Become an intrepid nature explorer! In this mixed-media class, students (aka explorers) will practice their art skills and learn to combine different materials to create unique art inspired by plants, animals, and landscapes. Explorers will draw, paint, sculpt, and collage to discover interesting ways to use both traditional art supplies and materials found in our day-to-day environment. Each class will have a nature-themed activity, and explorers are encouraged to imagine ways to make projects their own.

4:30 - 5:30 PM

Intro to Printing: Dry-Point Etching

3rd - 5th

Jeff Soifer

In Intro to Printing: Dry-Point Etching, students will explore dry-point printmaking by using etching tools to scratch designs into acrylic plates. They will learn how to ink plates and create multiple prints on paper. The class also offers opportunities to hand-color prints using colored pencils or watercolor. Through hands-on activities, students will develop skills in drawing, mark-making, and printing while expressing their creativity. This class is perfect for young visual artists excited to try a unique and fun printmaking process in a supportive environment.

4:30 - 6:00 PM

Digital Photography

5th - 8th

Gregg Adams

In Digital Photography, students will use photojournalism and street photography to tell stories of everyday life. Photographers will learn the basics of camera operations, composition, and post-editing to create visually pleasing images and experiment with ways to display their completed projects. A fan-favorite class for curious young photographers eager to understand the world around them.

Arts Afterschool

Grades K - 12 and Adult

TUESDAY

5:15 - 6:15 PM

TWB: Ballet Group B

3rd - 5th

Moira Ragen

Students will learn beginner ballet techniques introducing them to the foundation of classical ballet that will prepare them for more rigorous dance training. Students will work to master foundational ballet postures, positions and movements at center and across the room and at a barre, if available. Students will develop and strengthen gross-motor skills, coordination, balance, muscle strength and confidence.

5:30 - 6:30 PM

Art Journey Studio

1st - 3rd

Alejandra Giraldo

Each week, young artists will journey through the world of visual art to explore new concepts, mediums, and techniques. Students will maximize their creativity to produce unique works of 2D and 3D art through the combination of fiber arts, recyclable crafts, painting, and more. Great for curious minds looking to try something new!

5:30 - 7:00 PM

Painting Exploration with Watercolors

7th - Adult

Deborah Wallace

Discover the joy of painting in a fun and relaxed environment where creativity comes first. Students will explore a range of techniques using watercolor and acrylics while experimenting with unique materials—such as watercolor pencils, wax crayons, plastic wrap, and salt—to create exciting textures and effects. This class welcomes all skill levels, offering a supportive space for both beginners and returning artists to grow their confidence and expand their creative practice.

6:00 - 7:00 PM

Cartoon Lab

6th - 8th

Valery Herrera Cordon

Cartoon Lab invites young artists to design an original character from scratch using Procreate, a digital illustration app. Students will explore basic drawing tools, body and head shapes, clothing, and color palettes while building digital art skills and imaginative worlds. They'll create inspiration boards, sketch expressive poses, and develop characters with unique stories and personalities. This hands-on, tech-friendly class is ideal for artists who love cartoons, comics, and creating their own characters.

6:00 - 7:00 PM

Move + Rest: Restorative Yoga

7th - Adult

Hope Glastris

In this relaxing yoga class, students will learn simple but effective yoga practices to encourage deep, intentional rest. Students will explore using props and modifications to adapt the practice to their bodies and mobility levels. Each session will begin with a few moments of mindful breathing and a warm-up, followed by gentle movement to stretch out and loosen up. Then, students will wind down with longer-held poses and 10-15 minutes of quiet rest (naps welcome!). Open to all experience levels.

Teen Programming

Grades 9 - 12

WEDNESDAY

5:30 - 7:00 PM

Sitar's Emerging Arts
Leaders (S.E.A.L.)

9th - 12th

Nickole Best

Sitar's Emerging Arts Leaders Program is for teens ready to grow as artists and leaders while giving back to their community. Through the S.E.A.L. program, students from a range of artistic disciplines work together to produce the Set in DC Youth Film Festival and support other Sitar events. Participants take part in workshops led by creative professionals in film, public art, and more, and attend field trips to local arts and cultural institutions. S.E.A.L. members also have access to open studio time. They can use Sitar's creative spaces on Fridays to develop their work free of charge. This program offers a dynamic opportunity for youth to collaborate, create, and lead.
